PRESS RELEASE

SPI Albania Website Launched

www.spi-albania.eu

We are proud to announce that the SPI Albania website has become active as of October 8th, 2008,.

Promoting full transparency, SPI Albania has designed the website so as to offer a comprehensive image on its institutional and operational framework, on the values, concepts and methodologies promoted by the public-private partnership. The website contains information on SPI Albania activities and projects, reflecting the current status of the work, achievements and planned actions.

The SPI Albania website is a library of documents ranging from Regulatory Impact Assessment tools to Project Terms of Reference, Notes on International Experiences, statistical quantitative and qualitative data from the banking system and beyond. In addition, the SPI Secretariat is committed to reflect all SPI activities through regularly posting SPI Activity reports and Project Status updates.

More than a documentation of our work, the website aims at strengthening a sense of community between all actors involved and committed to the development of the Albanian Financial Sector by acknowledging and reflecting their collective and individual contributions in this challenging but important endeavor.

The website will serve not only to the SPI Albania stakeholders, but it is a source of information for academicians, local and international financial institutions and organizations that have an interest on the latest initiatives promoting financial sector modernization in Albania.

We kindly invite you to browse our SPI Albania website and we would highly appreciate your comments and suggestions on its design and information.
